

The American Institute for Medical and Biological Engineering

in cooperation with

The Congressional Robotics Caucus

“ Science that’s invented, not discovered. ”

Participate in LIVE
BioTech Demonstrations!

BioMedical Technology Exhibition

Watch Federally-Funded Research Come Alive!

Put on safety goggles and use a real laser that treats burn and scars....on some unlucky vegetables!

Test a robotic cane that assists the disabled

Check out MRI-compatible robotics, new systems for blood pressure management, and MORE!

Friday, May 5, 2017

NOON to 2:00 p.m.

2043 Rayburn HOB

Luncheon Reception & Exhibition

RSVP to smandell@aimbe.org

Demonstrations provided by:

Children’s National Health System
Harvard University | Johns Hopkins University
MIT | University of Arkansas, Little Rock
University of California, San Diego
University of Utah | Vanderbilt University

Remarks by:

Krishna Kandarpa, M.D., Ph.D., Director of Research
Sciences and Strategic Directions, National Institute of Biomedical Imaging and Bioengineering
(NIBIB) at the National Institutes of Health (NIH)